'Thangalaan': Memorable performance by Vikram

Director : Pa. Ranjith
Cast: Vikram, Parvathy Thiruvothu, Malavika Mohanan, Pasupathy, Daniel, Harikrishnan, Sampatram, others

"Set in 1850 CE in the village of Veppur, North Arcot, Thangalaan tells the story of a tribal chief named Thangalaan, who is enlisted by the British to search for gold in his land. However, his collaboration with the colonial powers angers the local people, led by Aarathi (Malavika Mohanan). This ignites a fierce conflict between Thangalaan's tribe and Aarathi's followers, with the British empire looming in the background.

Director Pa Ranjith's vision shines through the film's intricate setting and layered narrative. The story, casting, and historical backdrop showcase his deep attention to detail. Thangalaan touches on themes of oppression, Buddhism, and the mistreatment of women within the tribal community, adding depth to the narrative.

Thangalaan becomes even more interesting when stars like Vikram play lead roles. He is just amazing in the title role and shocks us with his performance. Be it his look, body language, and the slang used, Vikram is the mainstay of the film and delivers a memorable performance.

Malavika Mohanan is the surprise package of the film and shocks you with her intense act. All these years, we have seen her in glamorous roles, but director Pa Ranjith brings out the best in her. Malavika is amazing in all the confrontation scenes with Vikram.

Parvathy Thiruvothu Vikram's wife was also elegant in her role. Pasupathy excels in significant role, solid performance by Daniel as British general.

Malavika Mohanan delivers a stunning and intense performance as Aarathi, particularly in her confrontations with Vikram. Parvathy Thiruvothu, playing Vikram's wife, brings grace to her role, while Pasupathy and Daniel provide strong supporting performances, with Daniel excelling as a British general.

G.V. Prakash's music is effective, with the background score enhancing the film's atmosphere. The production design is a standout, meticulously recreating the historical period with breathtaking attention to detail. The fight sequences in the latter half are also well-crafted and grounded in realism.

Pa Ranjith continues his tradition of politically charged storytelling, delivering a film that is both visually striking and thematically rich. Produced by K.E. Gnanavelraja and Neha Gnanavelraja, this film presents yet another unforgettable avatar of Vikram.

Kashmir sees 15% growth in tourism

Kashmir, Aug 16: The Kashmir region has experienced a surge in tourism, with footfall increasing by over 15% since the end of the Covid-19 pandemic, according to Union Minister of Culture and Tourism, Gajendra Singh Shekhawat.

Speaking at the 25th Annual National Convention of the Tourist Guides Federation of India, held at the Sher-i-Kashmir International Convention Centre (SKICC) in Srinagar, Shekhawat emphasised the robust growth in domestic tourism across India.

He noted that popular tourist destinations are witnessing unprecedented crowds and stressed the need to redirect both domestic and international tourists to lesser-known, offbeat locations. Shekhawat highlighted lavender cultivation in South Kashmir as a key attraction, revealing that more than 2.5 million visitors have flocked to the region recently to witness its beauty.

The Minister's remarks underscore the importance of the tourism sector's readiness to accommodate the increasing number of travelers, ensuring sustainable growth and balanced distribution of tourist activity across the country.
